VOL. III. GLENDALE, LOS ANGELES COUNTY, CAL., SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1907. No 21

BOARD OF TRUSTEES.

Regular meeting held Wednesday evening, all members present except Mr. Campbell.

Demands as follows were referred to the finance committee:

N. H. Houser, stel work,	$24.25
N. H. Houser, street work,	$ 24.25
Cunningham, Curtis & Welch books for tax collector	1.70
D. MacDonald, cartage	.50
F. R. Sinclair, salary, etc.	81.30
Verdugo Pipe & R Co., water,	5.44
Riggs & Sherer, publishing,	18.45
Total	$131.64

Demands previously referred to the finance committee, amounting to $140.45, were reported favorably and ordered paid.

A petition from residents on Carroll (formerly "C") street, requesting that the name of said street be changed to Cedar, was received, and the clerk was instructed to inform petitioners that the change would be made if the property owners would pay the expense of publishing the necessary resolution.

Street superintendent made a report which was received and filed.

The clerk was instructed to notify the Salt Lake Railroad company that the street improvements on Glendale avenue are completed and that the board desires the railroad company to improve its right of way as required by the proceedings. The city engineer and the street superintendent were instructed to revise Specification No. 7, as they may deem necessary. Engineer's report and estimate of cost of proposed improvements on Second street from Adams street to Verdugo Road, were received and filed.

Messrs. Pacher, Sherer and Anderson were appointed a committee to consider and take up with the supervisors, the matter of establishing the city of Glendale, as a separate election precinct.

It was decided to call an election to ascertain the wishes of the people in regard to the adoption of a prohibitory liquor law, provided the people are desirous of having such an election and will pay the expense of the same. The city attorney was instructed to draw up the necessary resolution calling such election and to prepare the form of ballot.

The city attorney was also instructed to prepare a resolution ordering the work on Third street from Brand Boulevard to Adams street.

It was ordered that sidewalks be included on both sides of proposed improvements on First street, and a resolution passed adopting a map "showing improvements on a portion of First street."

A resolution was also adopted by the board "Declaring its intention to improve a portion of First street."

A resolution was passed "Adopting a map showing improvements of a portion of Second street; also a resolution of intention to improve the same.

A resolution ordering work to be done on Lomita avenue was adopted.

An ordinance regulating the use of gasoline and other engines passed final reading and was adopted. Ordinance establishing grades on L street, Ninth street, Damasco Court, Maple street and portions of A street, Seventh street, and Glendale avenue, also passed final reading and was adopted.

THE PROTEST MEETING.

These are strenuous days for the city trustees. They are not only working nights, but in the day time also, so as to give the public a chance to fling protests, conundrums and things at them. They had a special meeting Wednesday afternoon to hear the protests made by property owners against paying for the Fourth street grading. The protests were made on the ground that the cost of grading the nine-foot strip in the center of the street, which under the Vrooman law should be graded by the railroad occupying the same, should not have been charged up to the property owners. The cost of that portion of the job amounts to something over $600. The strip is nine feet wide by about 2200 feet long. The property owners did not, of course, anticipate having to pay for this portion of the work, but none of them seemd to have any idea as to just what ought to have been done about it. A good many of them, however, were quite sure that they should not be required to pay it.

Citizen Fixit Stanley was largely influential in working up the protest and when Supt. Sinclair charged that Citizen Fixit had agreed to withdraw it if the trustees would discharge him, (Sinclair), the Citizen admitted having done so. Mr. Sinclair asserted that the personal animosity of Mr. Stanley toward himself was responsible for the whole trouble and showed pretty conclusively that the job was a first-class one, both as to street and sidewalk work, for as a clincher to the protest it was alleged that the work did not come up to the specifications. Mr. Warren stated that the sidewalk is not six feet wide, but only five feet eleven and a half inches. Some aesthetic protestors objected to the color not being of the proper shade to harmonize with their desires.

Each side was represented by attorneys. The legal gentleman who represented the protestants read the law on the subject and was quite clear in his own mind that there were no two sides to the question. The attorney for Mr. Mock, the contractor, however, stated it as his opinion that as the Pacific Electric Railway company had no franchise on Fourth street at the time the street proceedings began, the law could not be construed as compelling them to take care of the roadway. It developed during the session that Contractor Mock had used a better grade of oil than the specifications required, that two extra rollings had been given the work at his expense and that in other ways he had done more and better work than the strict letter of the contract called for. The half inch shrinkage in width of sidewalk was admitted, as was also the fact that an immaterial finish of cement on the inner side of the walk had been overlooked and not put on.

The board having listened to the arguments and testimony on both sides, decided against the protestants.

To the Public

I wish hereby to notify my patrons and the public generally that I have sold the Glendale Stables to Thomas F. Ogier, to take effect October 1st, 1907, and I bespeak for my successor the same patronage which has been accorded to me and for which I hereby thank all from whom it has been received. All persons indebted to the Glendale Stables will confer a favor by paying such bills before October 1st. THOS. O. PIERCE.

Tennis Tournament

The Glendale Country Club will hold a tennis tournament on Friday and Saturday, September 27th and 28th, open to all residents of the valley. The matches in men's singles and doubles, ladies' singles and doubles and mixed doubles will come off Saturday, while the junior singles and doubles will be played Friday afternoon.

Mr. L. C. Brand is offering handsome prizes and trophy cups for all the events. Every tennis player is cordially urged to enter. Entries may be made at the club house till Thursday, September 26th. No fee is charged.

It is the desire of the promoters to arouse tennis enthusiasm in the valley and to create social interest by bringing the players and their friends together. Tea will be served in the club house.

For further information and particulars anyone may see the committee in charge at the club house on September 21st and 25th, from 3 to 5 p.m.

NINA MARTIN TATUM.

Hold Up!

"Please pay the City of Glendale 5 cents."

These are not the exact words, but is the gist of a letter sent to one of our taxpayers.

The notice is one of a number bearing similar demands ranging from 5 cents to several dollars which have been received in the past few days by persons owning unsecured personal property in Glendale.

Every man who in the spring paid the city assessor taxes on unsecured personal property must now pay more.

This is due to the increase in the tax levy over that of the preceding year. The law required the assessor to compute the current year's unsecured personal property tax by the 1906 levy. The 1906 rate was 75 cents, but the bond issue and the library fund call for 10 cents additional, which makes the tax rate 85 cents. Therefore everyone who has already paid must contribute 10 cents more on every $100 worth of unsecured personal property he owns.—Adapted from L. A. Record.

MRS. CHURCH ENTERTAINS.

Mrs. F. L. Church, of Orange street, entertained at dinner, last Tuesday evening, Mrs. Margaret Hughes, Mrs. Josephine Baker and Mrs. Shoemaker, of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cooley, of Pasadena, and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Sherer, of Glendale. The invited guests were all old friends in the days when Pasadena was young, Los Angeles only an overgrown town and Glendale not on the map. The table was decorated with some of the wonder work of Mrs. Theodosia Shepherd, in the development of the petunia, while the viands testified to the skill and excellent good taste of the hostess.

Free Mail Delivery for Hollywood

We learn from the Citizen that Hollywood, Prospect Park and Colegrove are to have free rural delivery within ninety days. The change will do away with a postmaster at Hollywood, but the office there will be maintained as a distributing office for the surrounding territory.

The French in Algeria

The French appear to have won out in Algeria and the wild Arabs are ready for peace. The machine gun is a powerful argument even against a "Holy War," and it is probably better for the peace of the world that its persuasive influence has been effective, for William of Germany has evidently been casting a jealous eye upon the French who were authorized by the conference at Algericas to police this portion of the Mediterranean coast, and seem to have done it well.

Boycott of the Express

The Los Angeles Express has been boycotted by the theater trust for favoring the closing of theaters on Sunday.

We have reasons for not greatly admiring the proprietor of the Express, but when that paper is boycotted for upholding a principle which so large a portion of our people believe in, we have for it that "fellow feeling" that makes us wish it success.

This paper also has the honor of being boycotted by the Pacific Electric Railway Company and two or three individuals who prefer crooked things to straight, but like other boycotted objects we continue to do business at the old stand.

Affinities

The daily papers lately have given a good deal of attention to the cases in which wives have deserted husbands and husbands wives, in order that they might consort with their "affinities" contrary to law and to the oaths which they so lightly uttered at the altar.

It is an old truism that there are "exceptions to all rules," and we should not want to have placed upon us the responsibility of deciding as to the merits of individual cases; but as a general proposition the "affinity" plea is unworthy of any respect in civilized society and if encouraged even by tolerance, would lead to the breaking up of those sacred family relations which are the basis for the most that is good in our modern civilization. If people will persist in rushing into matrimony lightly, willing to treat it as an experiment to be lived up to or not as their fancy dictates, it is not the fault of society that the experiment is a failure, and the individual should suffer rather than be permitted to continue a course of experiments.

It will be an unfortunate day for society at large when public opinion begins to tolerate the "affinity" plea for license.

The Work of the California Promotion Committee

We receive frequently from this committee matter of general interest, more of which we should like to publish if space to do so was at our disposal. We shall from time to time, however, note the excellent work that is being accomplished by this organization, as it is of interest to all Californians.

We note that the new Palace Hotel in San Francisco is to be completed in about two years from now, and that plans are already under way to inaugurate the opening by the most elaborate state dinner ever given in California, the object being "in commemoration of the rehabilitation of the city of San Francisco."

The literature of the committee also calls attention to the excellent progress made by the River Improvement and Drainage Association, organized in 1904. The gigantic work before this commission, which is composed of practical engineers and prominent business men, may be inferred from the estimate of the cost of reclaiming the overflowed lands along the Sacramento river, which is put at $23,000,000.

The committee is desirous of obtaining special information in regard to various sections of the state, and citizens who will furnish this are requested to do so, addressing the committee at its headquarters in San Francisco.

The Bubonic Plague

This dread disease has developed to such an extent in San Francisco that the government health officers have taken charge of the situation, which they declare to be serious.

The encouraging feature of the case is the fact that the health authorities of the general government, the state and the city are all co-operating to hold the disease in check, which leads us to believe that it will be eradicated without having reached to the extent of any general disaster.

The power of science over contagious diseases has been so effectually demonstrated in New York City, Havana and elsewhere in recent years, that there need be no fear of the repetition of the history of these scourges in the past, when the secrets of the origin and spread of disastrous plagues were unknown to the world.

The situation in San Francisco at present in reference to this disease is in gratifying contrast to that which existed a few years ago when the plague was in that city, but its existence was strenuously denied by the municipal authorities, while the governor of the state resented the action of the United States health officers and put in their way every possible obstacle to their effective work, on the miserable plea of interference with the sacred rights of the state.

We congratulate municipal and state authorities upon their safe and sane action in acknowledging the existence of the disease and in co-operating so harmoniously with the general government's health department.

Of Local Interest

Mr. Vesper, of the Bank of Glendale, called our attention the other day to the fact that the bank has an unusual accumulation of silver. Until very recently the demand for silver in Glendale has exceeded the supply and it was necessary for the bank to bring it up from Los Angeles about once a week.

Perhaps all will not agree as to the cause of this change in local monetary conditions, but to us it seems apparent that the small change of our people is not being carried into Los Angeles and left there, as was the custom before the late lamented(?) dinky railroad was purloined.

A frequent traveler on the Pacific Electric road notes the fact that the most of the ladies who travel over it recently, carry suit cases and are evidently bound for the beach and elsewhere beyond Los Angeles. The ladies who once would have taken the car at Fourth and Glendale avenue to attend a bargain counter sale in Los Angeles, are to a considerable extent spending their small change at home, which fact diminishes the flow of silver into the coffers of the Pacific Electric and the Los Angeles department store; but this is a condition which we shall try to bear with becoming fortitude.

Meanwhile the alluring smile and enlightened conversation of Bus Driver Watson are, with the assistance of his team, drawing strangers up from the railroad towards Glendale avenue in numbers which are increasing day by day.

A Courteous Answer

EDITOR NEWS:—My fellow citizen and neighbor, Mr. L. F. Hadrich, signs his name to what is headed a "Reply" to some comments which I made upon one of your recent pool room editorials. The person who wrote the reply evidently wished to relieve his mind of a little personal spleen which he had stored up against myself personally. I hope he feels better; I'm sure I feel none the worse. What my personal opinion of myself is, or what Mr. Hadrich's personal opinion of himself is, does not directly concern the public. The public forms its estimate of a man's character from his daily life and actions. I'm willing to abide by the decision of the public on that score. I have indulged in no personalities through the NEWS and do not care to. I have discussed the pool room as pool rooms have been and are conducted. Don't let one point-blank question occasion such excitement. More could be asked if found necessary.

Your correspondent's logic in his reply was missing when he advised me to quit associating with the "young man who has seen much of the world." Where does he get the authority for the assumption that the said young man was immoral? Do you or do you not honor and respect the work of the Salvation Army? They see the underside of life in cities large and small every day, yet respectable people do not hesitate to associate with them. Men in this community expect to and will keep posted on the "benefits" of public pool rooms.

I thank the editor of the NEWS for the space he has permitted me, but assure him that though he has granted the privilege to another to make a personal attack upon myself through the columns of his paper, I desire none of his space for stuff of similar character. Very respectfully.

M. Z. REMSBURGH.

[This communication closes this controversy. The closing interrogatory in Mr. Remsburgh's first communication was such as to entitle Mr. Hadrich to space for a reply. The affirmative is here given the closing word. Our correspondents will now please try something else—ED.]

Eating Before Sleeping

Dr. Woods Hutchison writes about sleep in September American Magazine. On the subject of eating before sleeping he says:

"Diet has little influence on sleep, except in so far as it may produce disturbance of digestion and through these of the general balance of health. The hypnotic effects of certain foods, such as onions, lettuce, milk, etc., are chiefly imagininary. Even the time of the last meal of the day is of relatively little importance, except that it is well to let this be at least two or three hours before retiring. But even this rule has many exceptions, as many healthy laboring men habitually fall asleep over their pipes directly after supper, and children, after poking the spoon into their little eyes, nod over the tea table, with the bread and butter still clutched in their chubby fists.

The processes of digestion probably go on more slowly during sleep, but they are perfectly carried out, as is illustrated by the almost invariable habit among animals of going to sleep directly after a meal.

Indeed a moderate amount of food in the stomach or intestines seems to promote slumber. Many night-workers for instance, sleep much better for taking a light or even full supper just before retiring."

High School Notes

The enrollment of pupils has increased from 103 on opening day to 110. The numbers contributed by the various districts are interesting to note;

Glendale	57
Tropico	23
Burbank	19
Ivanhoe	2
Eagle Rock	3
West Glendale	5
Los Angeles	1

Everything is moving along smoothly; teachers and pupils are daily becoming more familiar with their work and have settled down in the routine which promises high achievement.

The literary society held its first meeting for the term on Friday. The business transacted consisted of the election of officers and the adoption of a new constitution and by-laws. The topic of the day was Current Events, after the discussion of which there was a reception to new pupils.

The athletic association also held its first meeting for the year on Friday afternoon, which was a general athletic rally. Speeches were made by the teachers and the captains of the various teams, resulting in general enthusiasm.

Over forty of the girls are showing an active interest in basket ball and all are entering into the spirit of the work with more vigor than ever before.

The lack of space in which to do the work with entire comfort is the only unsatisfactory feature of present conditions.

The Grammar School

The grammar school opened on Monday with an enrollment of 321 pupils. Of this collection of hopeful young Americans, Miss Waite's first grade class numbers 60. There are 25 in the eighth grade and 30 in the third, while the other rooms range from 35 to 50.

The classes are too large for the best results to be secured, but this is one of the penalties we must pay for our remarkable and continuous growth.

The girls have organized their basket ball team and the boys a base ball aggregation that is bound to make a record.

M. E. Church Notes

Hearts were made glad by the coming of a precious little one to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Campbell, and they were made sad by the departure of the treasure so soon. A blessed mission was performed and a sweet anticipation will ever remain in these hearts until they possess the desired gift in the home beyond. For the loving sympathy and the many kindnesses shown these dear people there is heartfelt gratitude.

Old Folks' Day on Sabbath. Be sure to come; room for all. Sabbath evening, sermon by pastor. Subject: "Seeking Out Many Inventions." Thanks to everybody for kindnesses received during the four years we have served here. C. R. N.

A HAPPY DAY FOR LITTLE FOLKS

Mrs. Wilmot Parcher, Glendale avenue, gave a delightful little party last Friday to the little friends of Master Carroll, in honor of his fourth birthday. The house was beautifully decorated in red and white. The table spread with its dainties, was unique in design, the center piece with its birthday cake, raised some four inches from the table, surrounded with fantastic drapery and greenery, under which was placed a present for each little one, tied to dainty red and white ribbons leading to a place card at each plate, was a feature very attractive to each little one. After the dainties were served each one at table was told to pull the ribbon, when out came each hidden secret, to the great delight of every little one.

In the yard, swing, games, etc., were played, in which the older ones indulged to the great delight of the little folks.

Tea and dainties were served in the living room to the older ones present. The little guests present were Master James Merley and Nelson Faithful, Los Angeles; Master Frank Parcher, Hollywood; Master Johnny Hillman and Edward Byram, Viola and baby Drendel, of Tropico; Virginia Chapins, Helen Byram.

Older ones present were Mrs. A. H. Faithful and Mrs. Morck of Los Anwood, and Mrs. Longacre from Missouri; Mrs. Chas. Hilding and Mrs. E. L. Drendel.

A New Enterprise

Frank A. Albright and Llewellyn Andrews, both well known as among our enterprising business men, have associated themselves together and gone into the steam laundry business. Owing to the difficulty of disposing of the waste water of such an establishment, which in some small cities has rendered them a source of great trouble, the proprietors have decided to locate their buildings outside the city limits, at the corner of Woollacott and Remington streets, North Glendale, two blocks west of the railroad.

The laundry will be fully equipped with new machinery combining all the latest improvements, the same kind that is in use in the Sanitary laundry in Los Angeles.

The establishment will give employment to about thirty people and preference will be given to residents of the valley. It is an enterprise deserving of the success which we hope it will achieve.

Change of Ownership

Mr. T. O. Pierce has sold out his livery stable to Mr. T. F. Ogier. Mr. Pierce will probably spend a considerable portion of his time hereafter at his mine up beyond Banning, which he reports to be showing up in the most promising manner. We hope he will not leave us altogether, for "Tom" Pierce is known to all who deal with him as thoroughly reliable and among our "desirable" citizens.

Tropico Baseball Notes

The Tropico ball team defeated the strong Paiaffine Paint team of Los Angeles by a score of 2 to 1, Tropico winning out in the ninth inning. Up to the ninth it was a pitchers battle, both men pitching fine ball. Whitridge useing some of his fine curves and his good spead behind them saved the game for the Tropico boys. Fanset and Davenport the old players of the old Glendale team, played a fine game considering the time they were out of practice. We expect to see these men in their old form after a game or two.

The Tropico boys are going to give a dance at Logan's Hall on Sept., 51, and expect a large attendance. Come and help the boys out and show them you are interested in the sport. There will be a game every Sunday.

MISS SCOTT ENTERTAINS.

Miss Nellie Scott, having returned from Glenn Ranch in the San Jacinto mountains, where she spent two weeks most delightfully, entertained twenty-five of the guests whom she met while at Glen Ranch at her pretty bungalow on Glendale avenue, Sunday afternoon. The guests arrived from Los Angeles by trolley and were met by Mr. James Scott, brother of the hostess, who escorted them to the Scott bungalow. The lawn with its growth of palms and shrubbery had been converted into a bower of beauty and here the guests were met and welcomed by Miss Scott. Music was furnished by Messrs. Guy Rice, Clarence Peck and Jay Rice. One of the pleasant diversions was a wienerwurst bake, in which all participated, holding long sticks over a huge bonfire from which suspended appetizing wieners which were baked to a crispy brown.

Ere the guests departed they enjoyed a feast of delicious watermelons.

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian church was held at the Presbyterian Manse, Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. D. M. Stuart entertaining.

Japan furnished an interesting topic for discussion and was in charge of Mrs. John Hobbs, whose aunt, Miss Mary West, was a missionary to that portion of Japan which was selected for the afternoon's discussion. The missionaries who are at present at Fairen, Manchuria, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Winn, were educated at Galesburg, Illinois, and are friends of Mrs. John Hobbs. Miss Julia Winn is located at the girls' school at Kanazaira.

SCHOOL OPENS.

The Tropico schools opened under the most favorable and auspicious conditions Monday morning. Two hundred pupils enrolled and began work with a vim and an interest that won the admiration and co-operation of the entire corps of teachers.

Mrs. E. M. McClure, as principal, with Miss May Cornwall, Miss Jennie Clay, Miss Freda Borthick, Miss Clarice Merrill, and Miss Flora Chandler, as instructors, gives an excellent corps of thorough and efficient teachers to the patrons and pupils of the Tropico schools.

Sulphuring Fruit

The position of the Agricultural Department in reference to this subject is explained in the following letter:

BERKELEY, CAL., Sept. 12, 1907.

President Wheeler has today received the following letter from James Wilson, Secretary of Agriculture in Washington, in relation to the matter of the sulphuring of fruits, and the pure food law. Secretary Wilson says: "The pure food law and the interests of your people must both be considered. To the latter end I have promised that I will not be instrumental in taking anybody into the Federal courts if more sulphur is used than the ruling of the three secretaries has established. Before this matter came to my attention it had been taken to the President, and he had refused to suspend the law. I personally cannot suspend it, and I am not sure whether all of us put together can do so. Certainly we cannot do anything of that kind without full knowledge of the facts. I know the ruling came late, and probably should not have come at all this summer, but there is the law, requiring us to do certain things. Everything in my power will be done to conserve the interests of your people."
